Growth Mindset Strategies

In this practical workshop you will be taken beyond the Fixed / Growth dichotomy to develop an understanding of the reality experienced by most of our students that lies somewhere between these two extremes. These new insights help us explain why working with Mindsets is not a “one-size-fits-all”, but rather that we have to tailor our pedagogy to students at different points along the Mindset Continuum.

A core part of the workshop develops a deep understanding of the worldview that leads to different Mindsets. You will explore the concept of “Greatness Gap”. You’ll discover how a misunderstanding of the process that leads to the acquisition of talents and abilities, ultimately, pushes individuals towards a more fixed oriented mindset, and how to address this in your classroom

To counter the unfocused “Praise Effort” movement, we’ll unpack what we mean by Effective Effort. You’ll learn to distinguish Effective Effort from Low Effort, Performance Effort, and Ineffective Effort in order to develop a deep practical process for accurately and effectively praising effort for a more growth-oriented mindset. You will learn about the False Mindset, and explore ways to identify and combat this in your school.

James will show you how a Growth Mindset is foundational to student success, but how ultimately it is only the invitation to grow, not the growth itself. He will draw on recent research in the area of Acquisition of Excellence to show you how we combine Beliefs, Actions and Process to build Learning Power, build Potential and build Efficacy. Only when combined do we develop the type of 21st Century Learners that are able to achieve greater growth in their abilities.

At the end of this one day workshop...

you’ll come away with a deep understanding of what it means to Think Like A Growth Mindset Teacher. You will return to your classroom ready to develop increasingly growth-oriented Mindsets in your students. Importantly you’ll have developed the deep and nuanced understanding of this work that Carol Dweck is calling for, in order to move forward confidently in your classroom.

ABOUT JAMES ANDERSON

James is passionate about supporting schools and teachers to enable students to thrive in a rapidly changing, increasingly complex world.

The foundation of James’s work is the Growth Mindset. James takes teachers beyond simple social media catchphrases to create a teaching framework that develops robust and enduring Growth Mindsets in the classroom.

By challenging teachers’ own Mindsets, he equips them to nurture Growth Mindsets in their students.

James skillfully unites the Habits of Mind, Anders Ericsson’s critical work on practice and Carol Dweck’s work on Growth Mindset. In doing so, he creates a powerful combination that increases student efficacy and achieves greater learning outcomes through the development of Learning Agility.

James is a Certified Speaking Professional, and author of The Agile Learner, Succeeding with Habits of Mind and numerous ebooks.

“ The workshop is inspirational and challenges our every day thought process and habits. ”
